"PREPARED BY AND FOR THE CAST OF WALT DISNEY WORLD"

JULY 20, 1979

A FRESH LOOK AT THE LAUNDRY

Harriet Bowler

Russ Fitch

Diane Hamilton

Few of our cast members realize that our Walt Disney World Laundry is one of the largest of its kind in the United States, and the largest in the southeast. It handles around 70,000 lbs of laundry daily . . . that's 125,000 pieces of linen and 17,000 items of costume each day! The volume of work at our Laundry has almost doubled in the last five years, resulting in the need for two daily shifts for our Laundry cast. However, even with this additional work, the task of our Laundry cast members is becoming a little easier. EYES & EARS talked to the Manager of our Laundry, Keith Bunch, to find out what's happening.

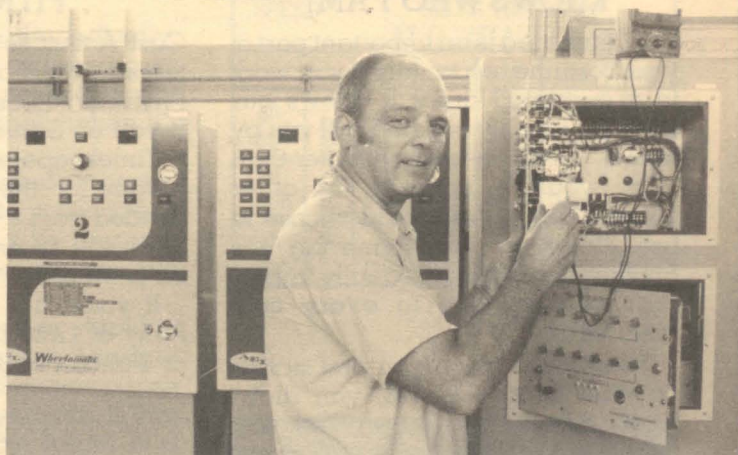

"One of the significant changes in the past year," Keith explained, "Has been the introduction of an inventory/quality control office. Now the requirements of each individual location are carefully monitored and daily supplies of fresh linen can be made on the basis of those requirements. Our Laundry cast is building a reputation of being more dependable and consistent. This works well for the individual locations because they receive what they require, when they need it. It works well for our Laundry cast, too, since their work for the most part is no longer subject to over-ordering or rush jobs."

The equipment in our Laundry is regarded as state-of-the-art in the cleaning industry and is hard to improve on. However, much is being done to improve the work environment for our Laundry cast. Recently, graphics were painted on the walls inside the building to brighten the surroundings. A new break trailer opened a few weeks ago to provide our cast members with a cool, pleasant place to relax. "We're not finished yet," Keith added, "Our improvement program will be ongoing."

One of the key items in the improvement of the Laundry's efficiency is its cast members. "We are lucky to have people of varying talents working in our management team here," Keith told us, "And we are also lucky to have talented people working throughout the Laundry. It's through all of our employees working together that we can operate more efficiently and make our work a little easier." Although the work may be a little easier, our 165 Laundry cast members still work very hard in providing an important service to our guests and to the rest of our Walt Disney World cast.

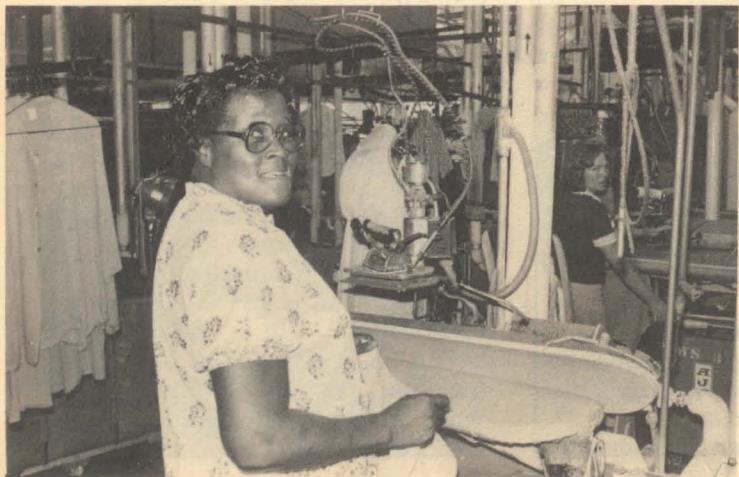

A REAL "SOAP OPERA"

How do you get detergents, softeners, etc. into 70,000 lbs of laundry? A giant box of concentrated All? A truckload of All Temperature Cheer? The true answer can be found on the second floor of the Laundry in the shape of the Chemical Injection System, shown above in the company of Jerry Quinn of the Laundry Maintenance crew.

The cleaning agents are stored in large holding tanks with valves controlled by a central electrical system. One of eight different programs (for different types of wash) is selected for one of the eight machines. The machine is then started by the operator at the "wheel" (washing machine) as a safety precaution. After that, the Injection System takes over and adds chemicals as they are required during the wash cycle.

Next week, EYES & EARS asks the question — how many quarters do you need to wash 70,000 lbs of laundry?

ELECTRIC VEHICLE TEST PROGRAM AT WALT DISNEY WORLD PROVES SUCCESSFUL

About two months ago, Walt Disney World began participating in a special Electric Hybrid Vehicle Program with the federal government. This program involves using a special test vehicle in an area usually served by a gasoline powered vehicle . . . in this case a pickup truck operated by the Facilities area.

Walt Disney World was one of several hundred companies who expressed interest in participating in the program and was selected along with four other companies (Consolidated Edison, Long Island Lighting Co., A.T. & T. and EHV Distribution Inc.) to test these vehicles under actual usage.

The specifications required of the test vehicle resulted in the identification of certain areas of Walt Disney World where electric vehicles could be used . . . specifically our pickup trucks used in the Maintenance areas. An Electra Van Model 1000P was purchased and put to work. The pickup (pictured above with Pedro Arcia and Larry Danielson from our machine shop) drives and handles very much like a regular truck. It has a three-speed shift and an engine response similar to a gas-powered truck. The chief difference is obvious when you raise the hood to find it full of batteries . . . and not the engine.

As a result of the two-month test it has been decided to purchase 20 additional vehicles . . . 14 additional pickups, 3 sedans (converted AMC Pacer Wagons) and 3 cargo vans. The test has shown that these vehicles are reliable and reduce dependence on oil. No waiting in line at gas stations for the owners of vehicles like this but beware the person who forgets to plug his truck in overnight!

WHY DO I HAVE TO WEAR A NAME TAG . . . EVERYONE KNOWS WHO I AM?

Your name tag is an important part of your costume, especially if you work in a costumed area. It allows our guests to identify you and call you by name . . . which is much better than "Hey, you!" or some of the other phrases our guests could choose to use. However, your name tag has another use which is equally important and applies to every cast member.

Remember when you first started at Walt Disney World, you didn't know the people you worked with and they didn't know you? Do you remember how name tags helped you get to know your fellow cast members better? Well, now you know everyone and everyone knows you, so you don't need a name tag, right? Wrong. Everyday new employees join our cast and need that help in getting to know everyone. They need you to wear your name tag.

Don't be a "Hey, you!" Wear your name tag and be yourself.

MICKEY'S GOLDEN EARS CLUB

On July 27, Elmer Belz of our Warehouse will be retiring from Walt Disney World. He joined our cast in July 1971 in the Warehouse Department.

During the years 1937 to 1940, Elmer was with the Tank Corps. Then he moved to the Air Force, spending the years 1940 to 1958 with SAC as a petroleum officer in charge of fuel for the planes.

Elmer is the Chaplin of the Bahia Shrine Temple in Orlando and he and his wife, Nina, spend many hours visiting members of the Shrine who are ill. Upon retirement, he intends to continue as Chaplin of the Temple and help Nina raise flowers . . . and do a little fishing!

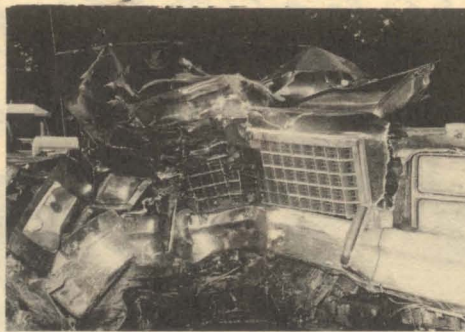

IF YOU WANT TO BE THERE TO WELCOME OUR 100 MILLIONTH GUEST . . .

SAFE DRIVING IS NO ACCIDENT

Last Friday was "Friday the Thirteenth," but bad luck had nothing to do with the accidents that occurred on property that day — three of which involved cast members.

- A cast member, following two other vehicles, pulled out to pass both of them. As he did so, the second vehicle in line pulled out to pass the vehicle in front. The employee in the third vehicle was, therefore, forced to drive onto the shoulder of the road and subsequently hit a ditch. This accident could have been avoided if the drivers involved had been more attentive to other traffic.
- A vehicle driven by an employee was crossing a parking lot — crossing the aisles instead of driving along them. Distracted for a minute, he failed to see another vehicle driving along the aisle and collided with it.
- During the rain on Friday afternoon, the driver of a vehicle — an employee — lost control and skidded. He hit a light pole causing it to break off and fall on his vehicle. Although the speed of the employee's vehicle was not excessive, the accident could have been avoided if extra care had been taken in driving in wet conditions.

Automobile accidents are generally not a question of luck. They are more often caused by impatience, carelessness, or stupidity.

When you are driving a car, it requires your full attention, not only while you are driving but before as well. Use a little forethought. If you are going to be late to your destination, call them and tell them you will be late. Never assume you can make a 20 minute trip in 20 minutes . . . allow for holdups, heavy traffic and bad weather. If you are late, don't take risks in an attempt to make up the extra time. It could cost you years rather than minutes.

When driving, be aware of what is happening around you. Periodically, check your rear view mirror to watch traffic behind you as well as keeping an eye on the traffic ahead. Anticipate the unexpected, keeping a safe distance between you and the car in front. Adjust your driving accordingly when it's raining.

Perhaps the worst kind of accidents occur when the driver takes unnecessary risks. Signs are placed along our roads to guide you as to how to drive. If the speed limit is 50 mph, it's there for a reason and not to be ignored. Continuous double lines indicate that it is unsafe to pass another car. Ignoring these signs is not only illegal, it's stupid and dangerous.

Most accidents are caused by either impatience, carelessness, or stupidity . . . all of which are within the control of the driver. If you won't drive sensibly and safely for your own sake, consider other drivers. The accident you cause may not harm you . . . but it could take someone else's life. Ask yourself, is that what I want to do? The future of a friend or a fellow employee is in your hands, not to mention your own future.

55 — IT'S THE LAW

The national speed limit of 55 mph was enacted to save motor fuel. The federal government estimates that we use 20% less fuel when we drive at 55 mph than when we drive at 70 mph.

In 1975, when compliance with "55" was greater than now, national savings were estimated at 65 thousand barrels of fuel every day.

But the "55" does more. It saves lives . . . some 4,500 lives every year according to authorities. Whose lives? Neighbors, friends, relatives, fellow cast members . . . perhaps yours.

Still, some people don't like "55". Some pay little attention to it. Speeds are creeping up. The result is more accidents, more injuries, more fatalities and more fuel consumption.

Who wins when we don't comply with "55"? Nobody, really. The time is minimal. Lives are endangered. Fuel is wasted. If you value your life and your family's . . . comply with "55". You'll be safer and save gas, too. You can depend on it!

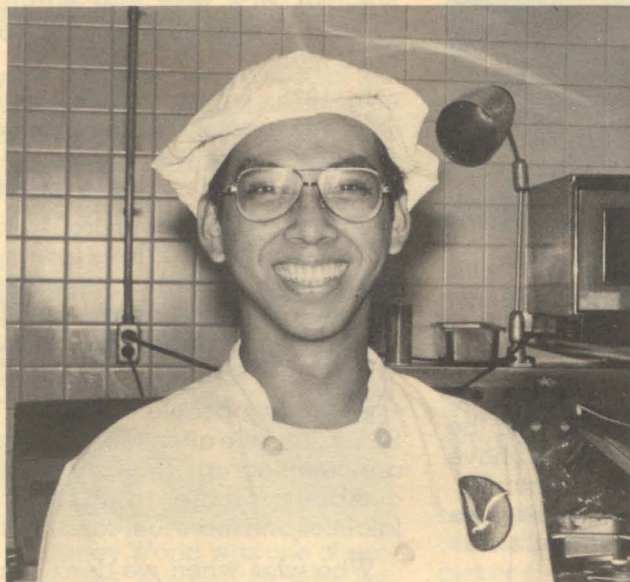

COMPARE HOW LITTLE TIME "55" COSTS YOU!

SPEED		MILES TRAVELED (AT CONSTANT SPEEDS)
		10	20	35	50	100
65 mph	DRIVING TIME	9 min	18 min	32 min	46 min	92 min
60 mph		10 min	20 min	35 min	50 min	100 min
55 mph		11 min	22 min	38 min	55 min	109 min

On Thursday, July 12, at 2:25 p.m., there was an accident on S.R. 535 in which a green Ford Pinto skidded and overturned. A motorcyclist, following the Pinto, stopped to assist the driver of the car and left before leaving his name.

The driver of the car is anxious to contact this motorcyclist and requests that he call 656-8914 and talk to Sharon or Randy.

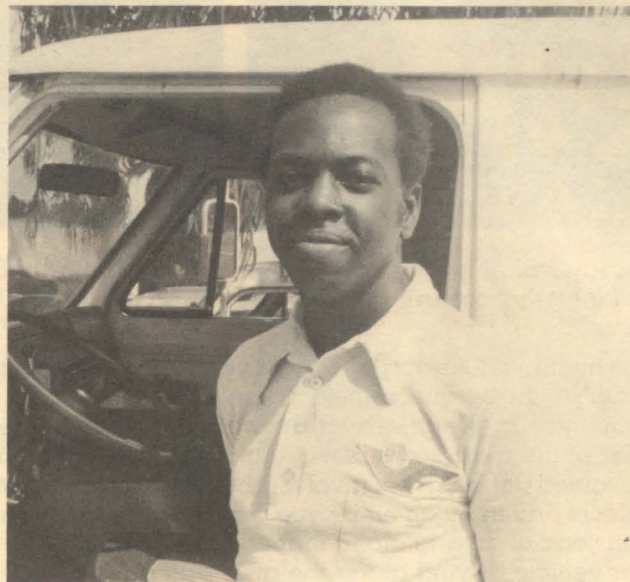

"It Takes People"

Born in Bangkok, Thailand, Smarn Kaochari of the Village Pavilion, in the Walt Disney World Village, was driving a furniture truck in Bangkok when he decided to come to the United States two years ago.

He arrived in Iowa in November 1977 to join his sister, who was already living in the United States. He worked as a custodian for Waldorf College, Forest City, Iowa, during the day and cooked in a restaurant during the nights. "I was very excited when I arrived in America," Smarn told us, "Everything is so different." When his sister and her family moved to Florida, Smarn traveled with them and joined our cast at Walt Disney World as a busman at the Village Pavilion in December 1978.

Smarn's experience in cooking helped him become a culinary assistant in the restaurant after about four months, and he hopes to continue his training to become a chef. He spends his time at home playing with his nieces and helping to paint the house. At work, he teaches other Pavilion cast members Thai words and smiles. "I enjoy my job and I like the people I work with. That's why I smile . . . because, as we say in Thailand, I'm "sabuy" . . . happy."

L.C. Brown joined our cast at Walt Disney World the day before opening, September 30, 1971. He started as a Food & Beverage Host at Coke Corner and worked there for 2 1/2 years before transferring to Internal Transportation as a Shuttle Driver.

"I got to meet a lot of people driving the shuttle," L. C. recalled, "I still meet a lot of people in my current position." L. C. is now a Communications Service Technician . . . "a fancy name for telephone repairman," L. C. told us . . . with Vista United Telecommunications. His job entails the installation of telephones all over the property. "You'd think that everyone in Walt Disney World had a telephone by now," he remarked, "but with the continual expansion and movement of our management cast, there's always a telephone to be moved or installed . . . usually with its own installation problems."

In his spare time, L. C. plays piano - "mostly gospel music" - and engages in a variety of sports . . . tennis, basketball, football, swimming. In fact, he and his wife are both taking swimming lessons at Little Lake Bryan this summer.

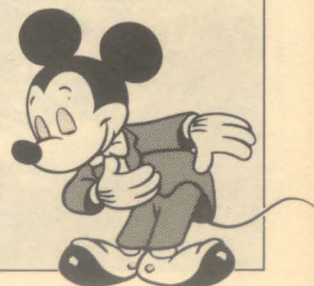

Edith Driscoll of Revenue Accounting spends her time in the morning relaxing and making new friends . . . she rides our Express Bus to work. "The bus is worth every penny," she told us.

Edith started at Walt Disney World in April 1974 as a Housekeeper in our Polynesian Village Resort. After a year she transferred to her present position in Revenue Accounting. "I've worked hard throughout my life," she told us, "And this is my first real sitdown job."

Originally from Long Island, New York, Edith and her husband worked in the hotel business in New York and New Hampshire. "One winter we were watching the water in our car battery freeze and decided right then that it was time to move to a warmer climate." They came to Florida to operate a hotel in Miami, but after awhile decided that they didn't want to continue in that line of work and moved to Orlando and Walt Disney World.

Edith has one word to describe our Express Bus service - "Terrific." "I used it the first day, recruited passengers and made some wonderful friends. I called my insurance company and told them I was only driving four miles to and from work, not fifty, and they gave me a refund. A group of us are even planning a breakfast for one of the passengers who's getting married!"
